THE NEW JOCKEY CLUB.

LIST OF THE MEMBERS MAY BE READY ON SATURDAY.

A MEETING OF HORSE-OWNERS WILL PROBABLY

BE HELD TO DISCUSS THE SITUATION. It is likely that the list of members of the Jockey Club will be made public on Saturday, as the com-mittee appointed for that purpose has nearly completed its labors. When the organization is com-pleted it is likely that a call will be issued to the horse-owners, and the situation of affairs will be thoroughly discussed in an open meeting, where Jockey Club moves right along without paying any attention to the "boycott" agreement. It is likely that at an open meeting there will be many changes suggested to the Jockey Club.

The first in order is the withdrawal of the "boy-Western turfmen desire most earnestly that the Coney Island Jockey Club should

"It is like sending Banquet to one of the leading breeding establishments to take the place of sires like Iroquois or St. Bla'se, to organize a Jockey Club with the Coney Island Jockey Club left out," was the remark made by a Western track owner a

Dr. Gideon L. Knapp, James R. Keene and Colonel W. P. Thompson have repeatedly said that if they thought for an instant that they were in the way of the consummation of the desired reforms they would resign at once in favor of men who could accomplish the object sought for, the reformation

"I do not care if I am not a member of the Jockey Club," Colonel Thompson has said, "if the turf is reformed, as I sincerely hope it will be when its affairs are aiministered by men who are likely to compose the Jockey Club," J. R. Keene has frequently expressed himself in the same manner. Edward Kelly talks in the same strain, as do a great many others who are horse agencies. If certain many others who are horse agencies and a contract made for the erection of 20 new stalls on the eastern extension of Horse Haven to accommodate the new entries, which number over 1,000. This exceeds by nearly double any previous year in the history of the track. President Walbaum prophesies the greatest racing season for 1894 that has ever been held in Saratoga.

compose the Jockey Callo. 3. R. Scale has great many others who are horse owners and breeders. If certain malcontents on the turf, who are seekers for high places in its management, would only have the courage and decency to act like the turfmen mentioned, all the dissension and friction would cease, and a united effort by the four leading clubs of this State—the Coney Island, Saratoga. Brooklyn and the New-York Jockey clubs—with fifty or one hundred leading men to direct them, would assure the future of the turf.

Racing affairs in New-Jersey are extremely quiet, as its existence depends on the continuance of the deadlock in the Senate. If the Democratic "High-binders" of that State can upset the verdict of its chizens by preventing legislation, it is likely that an attempt will be made to begin racing in March. There are many obstacles, however, in the way of the "Highbinders," so that many arrests will be made should an attempt be made to hold race-meetings against the wishes of the citizens. Peter De Lacy said that he was not out of the racetrack fight, and with the decision of the Supreme Court that declared the Parker laws unconstitutional at his back, he will make it extremely unpleasant for some of the racing officials should they attempt to race.

some of the racing ometae should they attempt to grace.

G. G. Walbaum arrived in the city last night from Saratoga. The association owns a large tract of land where Horse Haven is now, which is large enough for the construction of a mile track that could be easily constructed so that sixty days racing instead of thirty could be given at Saratoga. It is possible that such a track will be constructed, as the outlook for peace in this neighborhood is not as brilliant as the friends of racing desire. Should the gates of the New-Jersey tracks be closed this season the adherents of Guttenburg would have a place to race their horses, many of which are not good enough to win at any of the tracks in this neighborhood.

WAR IN THE BROOKLYN CLUB

STOCKHOLDERS AT ODDS.

A DECIDED DISAGREEMENT BETWEEN TWO FAC-TIONS OVER MONEY MATTERS-F. A. ABELL MAY WITHDRAW HIS HEAVY

INTERESTS-TALK OF A RECEIVERSHIP.

There is a "row" in the Brooklyn Baseball Club, which the followers of the game at large, and particularly in Brooklyn, will watch with considerable interest. There are two factions in the club, and as is usual in such corporations each is pulling in a different direction. F. A. Abell, who is the largest stockholder in the club, is protesting against the manner in which the affairs of the club have been conducted during the last two years, and he threatens dire things unless there is an immediate change. The trouble has been developing gradually, and it dates back to the baseball war when the Brookiyn League and the Players' League clubs of that the other stockholders do not take a proper interest from the secretary of the president of the college. in the club. They also charge that the old Players League faction has not carried out the original agreement. Mr. Abell threatens to sell out his stock and retire unless the others share with him the financial burdens of the club, and there was some talk last night about applying for a receiver. Messrs. Byrne and Abell represent 51 per cent of the stock, while the old Players' League men, among whom are John Wallace, Wendell Goodwin, G. W. Chauncey and H. J. Robinson, own 49 per cent of the stock. It is asserted that this latter faction has not paid up much over one-half the money it agreed to pay in when the two clubs were consolidated.

THEY DON'T WANT TO GO TO LAW.

C. H. Byrne, the president of the club, when seen last night said: "Mr. Abell is dissatisfied with the manner in which the affairs of the clui have been conducted. Mr. Abell has stood by the club in every crisis, and he believes that the other stockholders should come forward and do their share. We want to avoid any legal controversy if such is rossible." such is possible."

A. W. Kiddle, of Redding & Kiddle, a stockholder

A. W. Kiddle, of Redding & Kiddle, a stockholder in the club, and the attorney of the corporation, when seen yesterday afternoon said: "I think that these other stockholders have been most unfair in this matter. When the two clubs were consolidated and the League Club moved from Washington Park to Eastern Park the old Players' League men agreed to pay Messra. Byrne and Abell $19,000. Of tals amount $20,000 was to be paid in cash and the other $19,000 from the dividends. To date only $22,000 has been paid. The delinquent stockholders do not come to the club meetings of take any interest in the affairs of the club. Many of these men are interested in the Ridgewood Land and Improvement Company and in the Kings County Elevated road. Mr. Abell may apply so the Chanceller of New-Jersey, where the club is incorporated, for a receiver." GAMES FOR THE GIANTS.

The New-York Baseball Club has arranged these games for the Polo Grounds: March 31 and April 4 with Princeton College, and March 29 with either Manhattan or Columbia College nine. The Buffalo. Troy and Erie teams have also applied for dates. The Giants may go South for a trip about March 10, and Manager Ward is anxious to hear from Southern League clubs regarding grounds Van Haitren has signed with the club, the players under contract to-day being as follows: Murphy Van Haitren, Wilson, Burke, Doyle, Westervelt, Clarke and Davis. Contracts have been sent to Clarke and Davis. Contracts have been sent to the other men.

La Chance has signed with the Brooklyn Club, and Daub has also accepted the club's terms. Kennedy was offered an increase of $500 over the salary he received last year, but he demands an increase of about 100 per cent. The club has eight men under contract at present.

The annual meeting of the New-York Baseball Club will be held at Jersey City to-day. The same officers will be re-elected, except that a successor will be chosen to C. D. White, the secretary, who has resigned.

HIGHER PRICES FOR TROTTING STOCK. HAZEL WILKES BRINGS $5,500 AND NELLIE · ALDINE $3,500-SIX HEAD AVERAGE

OVER $2,300.

Prices generally ruled higher on the second day's sale of trotting stock yesterday at the American Institute, Third-ave, and Sixty-third-st. The stars dine and Kincoreth, led to prolonged and spirited bidding. Although William Corbitt's six head averaged over $2.300, every one of them was a bargain at the price paid. John H. THE JEROME CLUB'S CHANCES.

J. T. Hyde is confident of the reorganization of the Jerome Park Club. The required number of mem-bers to complete the club is likely to be secured before the time to close the list of subscriptions comes. There is plen'y of room for another club in some other locality. One club is not sufficiently large for some of the men who drive on the road, but with two clubs everybody is likely to have all the space he desires. It is a certainty that the Jerome Park property will not be molested until long after the speedway is completed, which will take nearly, if not quite two years. When the speedway is onened, it is likely that a new club can be successfully formed, and the road riders can unite in a clubhouse large enough for all.

The unfortunate man uttered two screams as he felt, and they were heard by people wasking in Broad-st. Huddlestone, standing on the scaffold two feet above the other, saw the accident and was so oversome that he nearly fainted on his narrow poech. He leaned back upon the roof for support until he could recover himself sufficiently to descend through the interior of the tower. Quackenbush struck upon his back and was instantly killed. He was married and lived in New-Bruns-

Samuel Belasco, who was arrested in New-York on a charge of bigamy, was acquitted in the courts yesterday. The prosecution failed to prove the death of the former husband of the second woman married by Belasco.

The anti-borough people of Tenaffy held a primary at Clinton Hall last night and selected the following people's ticket: For Mayor, Henry B. Palmer; for councilmen to per. e one year, J. Hull Browning and Andrew H Westervelt; to serve two years, H. A. Walcott and David H. Gildersleeve; to serve three years, Richard Delehanty and James H. Buck-ley. With the exception of three councilmen, this ticket is identical with the Citizens' ticket adopted at the borough primary on Saturday night. The tickets will be voted upon at a special election on Tuesday

Howard Osgood Tolman, twenty-seven years old, left his home in Orange on January 27, and has not been seen by his family since then. He is about five feet five inches in height, has dark hair and eyes, and wears small side whiskers. When he went away he had on a dark suit, dark overcoat, black derby hat and red necktie. His father is John Tol-man, of No. 53 Main-st., Orange.

That Pierre Brady, the crazy Frenchman, who on Mon-day poisoned himself in the St. James Hotel, believed elf in love with Mme, Jane Hading, ...ie French acthimself in love with Mme. Jane Hading, he French act-ress, is now made clear by his actions just before com-mitting suicide. Mme. Hading, who was acquainted with Brady, says that he called on her at the Hotel Vendome on Sunday afternoon, and she talked with him a consid-erable time on general subjects. He had often sent her flowers and, Mme. Hading supposed, admired her only as an artist. But Brady's affection was too evidently of a different kind.

George C. Curtis, a stricken with apoplexy at 4 p. m. yesterday, while stricken with apoplexy at 4 p. m. yesterday, while testifying before Judge Beach, in the Supreme the messenger who called for it explicit directions that Court as an expert in a suit for damages brought it should be delivered into her hands. This was done, but Mme. Hading declined to answer the note. When lirady learned this he went direct to the St. James Hotel, stopping on the way to buy the laudanum with which he ended his life.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE POULTRY SHOW AT THE MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.

There is a great deal of noise at the Madison Square Garden. It may settle down to something systematic to-day, but yesterday afternoon it had all the delirious charm of confusion added to its volume. The exhibits were arriving for the poultry show, which opens to-day, and such another cackling and crowing has not been heard since the poultry show last year. About 4,000 birds had arrived yesterd,y afternoon. Some of them were in their cages, which were ranged in lines the whole length of the Garden, and some were in boxes, piled up on the floor, in the corners and wherever there was temporary room for them. But whether they were in their places and pluming themselves for the entrance of the public, or whether they were still shut into their closs and sometimes rather dark transportation quarters they all seemed determined to crow or cluck enough to insure themselves against being forgotten. A good many rare, valuable and beautiful specimens were already visible yesterday, though the best had not yet arrived.
They will all be ready to-day, and the pond in the middle of the Garden will be ready for the water fowl. There will be pigeons all around the circle of boxes and incubators in the restaurant, where eggs of graduated asses will be arranged so that some will hatch every day. The exhibition will begin to-day, and will end on Tuesday, being open every day, except Sunday, when the chickens will rest. show, which opens to-day, and such another cack-
